

Downeast Lakes Landings

March 27, 2018

DLT Unveils A New Look!

We are thrilled to introduce Downeast Lakes Land Trust's new and improved website!

Visit www.downeastlakes.org to see the exciting changes, or read the blog post below...

Read More

Washington County High School Internships

Are you interested in a career in conservation? DLLT has two, paid internships for high school students this summer. Read the link for more information on this exciting opportunity for area youth...

Read More

DLLT Photo Contest Deadline is April 15th!

Be sure to send us your best shots of the Downeast Lakes region, and have your work featured in Grand Lake Stream!

Keep Reading

Upcoming Events

March 29 - 6 pm: "3 Nations Anthology" by Editor Valerie Lawson - A collection of writings from area authors that all share a strong connection to Downeast Maine.

April 17 - 10 am: Kids Spring Fishing Hike - Join DLLT Education and Outreach Manager Colin Brown for a hike along Pocumcus Lake Trail in search of fishing spots.

April 26 - 6 pm: "Deer Diaries" by John Ford - Maine's favorite storytelling Game Warden is back in Grand Lake Stream to present his latest collection of tall tales and funny stories from the field.

Program Details

DLLT Executive Director David Montague in Rocky Mountain National Park, CO.

DLLT Pride On Social Media

DLLT's friends and supporters are passionate about conserving the Downeast Lakes region, and they carry that passion all over the country and world with them. Show us where you take your passion for the Downeast Lakes Land Trust by sharing photos of DLLT logowear from your travels!

Here's how to participate in this social media initiative:

1. Photograph yourself in your DLLT hat, t-shirt, or fleece someplace far from the Downeast Lakes region. (Tip: Be sure we can see the DLLT logo, and try to get something interesting or unique in the background!)
2. Post your photo to Facebook or Instagram, type your location in the photo description, and tag Downeast Lakes Land Trust.

It's that simple! Each month we'll randomly draw a winner from that month's entries to receive a special prize! Submit as many photos as you want, but only one photo per month and location, please. Let's see how far your DLLT pride can go!

MailChimp